Our School Chaplaincy

- Provides and facilitates pastoral care for students, families and staff,
- Provides support in cases of bereavement, difficult family relationships, or other crisis and loss situations,
- Assists at-risk students through specialist support programs,
- Supports and participates in school activities such as camps, sports, induction programs, leadership programs, special events, and school ceremonies,
- Participates in and/or facilitates holiday camps and activity programs, and
- Supports students exploring their spirituality, regardless of student's faith or beliefs

"Chaplains provide a listening ear and a caring presence for kids in crisis, and for those who just need a caring, supportive adult."

Our School Chaplaincy is a partnership between:

- School administration
- Local Chaplaincy Committee
- Scripture Union QLD (employing authority)

LCCs (Local Chaplaincy Committees) are responsible for local management of Chaplaincy Services. LCCs are comprised of representatives from the school and local community.

SU QLD (Scripture Union QLD) is a registered charity and public company, providing Chaplaincy Services with insurance cover and ATO deductible gift recipient status for donations.

SU QLD manages and administers finances on behalf of LCCs, including State and Federal Govt grants. SU QLD provides online financial reporting to LCCs.

SU QLD employs and trains Chaplains to work in school communities across Queensland.

SU QLD manages all aspects of employment for Chaplains, including: payroll, superannuation, leave loading, fringe benefits, salary packaging, and performance management.

Adrian Young has been our School Chaplain since 2011, and is an experienced registered teacher, and youth minister. Chaplains are in the prevention and support business, helping our students find better ways to deal with their worlds.
